Correction - Fees and costs in your Income account table

18 March 2021

Page 17 of the Sunsuper for life guide issued on 1 January 2021 includes the 'Fees and costs in your Income account' table. The Indirect cost ratio row of this table contains an error, with footnote 6 being incorrectly referenced from the indirect cost ratios, instead of footnote 7. An Indirect cost ratio row with corrected footnote referencing is shown below.

Indirect cost ratio ¹	For the Retirement investment option: 0.41% p.a.⁷ For Sunsuper's other investment options: 0.00% p.a - 1.21% p.a.⁷	Not charged by Sunsuper, but instead incurred within underlying investments and deducted from investment returns prior to calculation of daily unit prices.

⁷ The indirect cost ratio is calculated using actual costs and reasonable estimates of actual costs incurred in the previous financial year, and can vary each financial year. For information on indirect cost ratios, including the ratios for our full range of options, refer to Additional explanation of fees and costs in this guide.

Super-savings account

Who is it for

A Super-savings account is generally for members who want to save for their retirement, and offers a range of investment options, flexible insurance cover and member services to help you keep on top of your super.

Setting up an account

Setting up an account is easy. Just go to sunsuper.com.au/join to become a member of Sunsuper for life and set up a Super-savings account. It takes around 10 minutes and you'll get your membership details right away and can provide them to your employer (if you have one). Alternatively, you can fill out the Membership application form in the back of the Sunsuper for life Product Disclosure Statement (PDS), which is available at sunsuper.com.au/pds or by contacting us.

Each Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate plan has its own microsite, where you can find your Membership application form. Check your PDS or contact us for the web address.

Return your completed form to Sunsuper, so that we have your personal details, insurance, investment choice and your preferred beneficiaries.

Putting money in

Your Super-savings account can accept contributions from your employer (including salary sacrifice contributions), as well as voluntary contributions and rollovers from other funds.

Investing your money

You have a choice of 19 different investment options, so regardless of your age and investor needs, we are confident that we've got an option to suit you. If you don't make a choice, we'll invest your Super-savings account in our Lifecycle Investment Strategy.

Insurance options

For Sunsuper for life Super-savings accounts, if you're eligible, you'll receive Standard Death and/or Total & Permanent Disability Assist cover automatically, unless you have told us that you do not want this cover.

Refer to the Sunsuper for life Insurance guide for more information on insurance cover and New Member options.

For Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate Super-savings accounts, insurance is specific to your employer plan. For Sunsuper for life Business refer to the Sunsuper for life Business PDS and your Plan information factsheet. For Sunsuper for life Corporate refer to your Sunsuper for life Corporate PDS and your Sunsuper for life Corporate Insurance guide for more information on your insurance arrangements.

Tax

Money put into your Super-savings account generally receives preferential tax treatment, with employer contributions (including salary sacrifice contributions and voluntary contributions for which a tax deduction is claimed) being generally taxed at 15%.¹

Investment earnings are also generally taxed at 15%,² which may be lower than your marginal tax rate.

Tax on withdrawals generally depends on your age, with no tax payable if you're over age 60.

Any Administration fees and insurance premiums may be tax deductible.

- ¹ If your income including before-tax (concessional) super contributions is over $250,000 an additional 15% tax will apply to some or all of these contributions. The Australian Tax Office (ATO) will charge this additional tax. For more information, visit ato.gov.au
- ² Taxes may be payable in foreign countries in respect of income derived from non-Australian investment earnings.

Getting money out

Super is an investment designed to help people save for their retirement, so you generally can't make a withdrawal until you reach your preservation age (although it can be accessed earlier in limited circumstances). Once you reach your preservation age, you can make lump sum withdrawals or set up a Sunsuper for life Income account, which lets you receive regular income payments while the rest of your super remains invested.

Income account

Who is it for

A Transition to retirement income account is generally for members who have reached their preservation age (which depends on your birth date - refer to Preservation age table) but are under age 65, still working, and want to receive regular payments from their super to supplement their income from work.

A Retirement income account is generally for members who have reached their preservation age and retired, or are over age 65, and want to receive regular payments from their super.

If you have a Transition to retirement income account, this will become a Retirement income account when you retire or turn 65.

To set up either type of Income account, you'll need a minimum balance of $60,000.

Easy account activation

Your Sunsuper for life membership includes an Income account for when you are ready to transition to retirement. As you approach retirement, you will start to see details of your Income account in Member Online and in various communications. When you reach preservation age, subject to minimum balance requirements, you can simply activate your Income account online, through Member Online. Alternatively, you can complete the Income account request form available in the Income account booklet, and return it to us, along with the required supporting documentation. Note that no Income account fees apply until you activate it. For more information, read the Income account booklet which you'll find inserted at the back of this guide.

Retirement Bonus

When you're ready to retire and activate your Retirement income account a Retirement Bonus¹ of up to $4,800 may be paid on Super-savings account or Transition to retirement income account funds moved into your Retirement income account. For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/retirementbonus

¹ Subject to eligibility criteria, including a 12 month minimum membership period. The Retirement Bonus is generally paid into eligible Retirement income accounts in the July following the financial year in which the Retirement income account was established. Please note other conditions apply.

Putting money in

When you activate your Income account, you need to invest a minimum of $60,000. You can also add additional money by restarting your Income account at any time using Member Online, or by contacting us (a minimum additional amount of $10,000 applies). After you activate your Income account, if you want to combine a number of different amounts you will need to consolidate them in your Super-savings account before you restart your Income account. Once we receive your request we will close your existing Income account and combine the money with the money in your Super-savings account. We will use the combined money to start a new Income account in your name. It's important to note that when opening an Income account or making a contribution prior to restarting your Income account, your money will be invested in a Super-savings account while we process your request.

Super-savings account fees will apply, and if you have not made an investment choice, your money will be invested in the default investment option - the Lifecycle Investment Strategy.

We will automatically open a Super-savings account for you if you don't already have one when you open your Income account.

Any amounts you hold in your Super-savings account will incur fees. Any contributions into your Super-savings account will be invested in the default investment option for that account or in line with your existing investment nomination for that account if you made one. Refer to the Income account booklet for more information.

If you set up one or more superannuation retirement pensions (like Sunsuper's Retirement income account) with a total balance exceeding the 'transfer balance cap' ($1,600,000 for 2020-21, indexed), the Australian Tax Office (ATO) may force you to withdraw the excess and a penalty tax may apply. Visit ato.gov.au for more information.

You have a choice of 18 different investment options. If you don't make an investment choice, we'll invest your Income account in our Retirement investment option.

We recognise that choosing the right investment option(s) can make a big difference to your retirement income and that choosing the right investment option(s) depends on your personal circumstances and your retirement goals. As everyone's situation is different, you may need some advice. Speak to your adviser or contact Sunsuper to get the advice you need.

Today and Tomorrow strategy

Sunsuper has designed the Today and Tomorrow strategy that aims to meet the needs of our members who are near or in retirement.

Our Today and Tomorrow strategy is a simple and effective strategy. It provides you with peace of mind for today and the opportunity for strong growth for tomorrow by investing an amount equal to twice the annual income payment amount you nominate in the Cash investment option, and the rest of your Income account in our Retirement investment option.

Your income payments are initially paid from the Cash investment option until there are no longer enough funds to make your regular payments, and then they are paid proportionally across your account.

You can only select the Today and Tomorrow strategy when starting a new Income account, or when restarting your existing Income account.

The Today and Tomorrow strategy - an example:

Paul is 65 and starts his new Sunsuper for life Income account with $250,000 and requests a yearly payment of $20,000. Paul decides the Today and Tomorrow strategy is right for him.

When Paul's Income account is set up:

$40,000 (2 x Paul's yearly payment of $20,000) is invested in the Cash investment option. Paul's initial income payments will be paid from here. This provides peace of mind because during any market falls in the first 2 years of his investment in the Today and Tomorrow strategy, he will not be drawing money from an investment option invested in shares.

The remaining $210,000 is invested in the Retirement investment option which benefits from exposure to shares when share markets are doing well but also has a reasonable allocation to defensive assets which provides some protection in market downturns.

Build your own investment strategy

You can choose to build your own investment strategy by selecting up to 10 investment options from our wide range (with the exception of the Lifecycle Investment Strategy which is only available in Super-savings accounts). Refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide for information on our wide range of investment options.

Rebalancing your portfolio

If you select two or more investment options, you may wish to rebalance your Income account portfolio on a periodic basis. Rebalancing simply means bringing the weighting of each investment option in your portfolio back into line with your original selection by moving money from one option to another.

Your weighting of investment options gets out of line when some investments perform better than others. Sunsuper offers an automatic rebalancing service for your Income account that reweights your investment options back into line with your original selection. Buy-sell spreads may apply.

You can choose between an automatic rebalance frequency of:

- twice yearly – we will rebalance your account on or around 31 March and 30 September (the rebalance dates) each year using the unit price for that day, or
- annually – we will rebalance your account on or around 31 March each year using the 31 March (the rebalance date) unit price.

If the rebalance date happens to fall on a non-business day, your rebalance will be processed using the unit price for the next business day. Rebalance requests received before 3pm AEST on the rebalance date, will be processed for that date. Rebalance requests received after this time will be processed for the next nominated rebalance date.

If you make an investment option change in the future you will need to renominate your choice of how often your account is rebalanced. You may need to seek financial advice to help you manage your portfolio and ensure you have the right asset allocation.

The automatic rebalancing service is not available if you have selected the Today and Tomorrow strategy.

Insurance options

Sunsuper for life

No cover is available in your Income account, however if you maintain your Super-savings account with enough money to pay for any future insurance premiums and continue to make regular contributions, you may remain eligible for Death and Total & Permanent Disability cover. Note that Total & Permanent Disability cover ceases at age 67 and Death cover ceases at age 70.

If you continue your Income Protection cover in your Super-savings account refer to the definition of Pre-Disability Salary in the Sunsuper for life Insurance guide. Note that Income Protection cover ceases at age 65.

Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate

No cover is available in your Income account, however if you maintain your Business Super-savings account or a Corporate Super-savings account with enough money to pay for any future insurance premiums and continue to make regular contributions, you may remain eligible for cover. If Income Protection cover is available in your employer Plan and you continue any Income Protection cover you may need to review your level of cover if your work hours have altered. For more details refer to the definition of Pre-Disability Salary in your Sunsuper for life Corporate Insurance guide, or Sunsuper for life Business Insurance guide.

Tax

No tax is payable on super monies transferred to your Income account (although any before-tax contributions or roll-ins from an untaxed fund would be subject to 15% tax in your Super-savings account).

- For Transition to retirement income accounts investment earnings are generally taxed at 15%.
- For Retirement income accounts no tax is generally payable on investment earnings.¹

Regular income payments and any lump sum withdrawals are tax free after age 60. Between your preservation age and age 60, lump sum withdrawals are tax free up to a cumulative total ($215,000 for 2020-21, indexed) and regular income payments are taxed at your marginal tax rate less a 15% offset.

Getting money out

Your Income account provides you with regular income payments. There are minimum annual payment amounts (see the table below), and for Transition to retirement income accounts, a maximum annual payment limit of 10% of your balance applies.

Minimum percentage factors
Age	Percentage factor
	2019-20 and 2020-21	2021-22 onwards
Less than 65 years	2%	4%
65-74 years	2.5%	5%
75-79 years	3%	6%
80-84 years	3.5%	7%
85-89 years	4.5%	9%
90-94 years	5.5%	11%
95 years or more	7%	14%

The table above shows the percentage factor used to calculate the minimum annual payment amount each year. Note that the minimum payment amounts for 2019-20 and 2020-21 were reduced by the Government to help retirees manage the impact of financial market volatility on their retirement savings.

You can choose whether your regular income payments are made fortnightly, monthly (default), quarterly, half yearly or yearly.

If you choose fortnightly payments, you will generally receive your regular income payments every second Wednesday. For other payment frequencies, you'll generally receive your payment on the 11th day of each month your payment is due.

The payment will be paid directly to an account in your name with an Australian bank, building society or credit union.

If you have a Retirement income account, you can request lump sum payments at any time, a minimum amount of $2,000 applies. Lump sum payments are generally not available from a Transition to retirement income account.

Holders of either type of Income account can also request additional income payments. Note that for a Transition to retirement income account, these payments count toward the maximum 10% annual withdrawal limit. No minimum additional amount applies.

You can choose to have your regular income payments drawn from your investments in one of three different ways:

1. If you're invested in more than one investment option (with the exception of the Today and Tomorrow strategy), you can choose to have your payments made from one of the investment options you are invested in.
2. You can nominate specific percentages of more than one investment option, and your payments will be made from those investment options according to the percentages you nominate.
3. You can choose to have your payments made proportionally across all your nominated investment options. If you don't make a choice or if you choose options 1 or 2 and there are no longer enough funds in your chosen investment option(s), we will automatically make your payments proportionally from your remaining account balance.

2. How super works

At Sunsuper, we make super, super simple. We're all about helping you make your dreams more than dreams, whatever they may be.

Contributions

Making your super grow

Your super is subject to investment returns but there are some extra ways money can come into your Super-savings account including:

Consider combining your existing super funds

If you have more than one super account, combining (or rolling over) all of your super may save you money, reduce your paperwork and allow you to focus on one investment strategy. Refer to Combine all your super in Sunsuper for life.

Before combining your super, consider the potential loss of insurance and other benefits that you may have with your existing fund. Also, think about where your future employer contributions will be paid.

You should contact the other fund for information on the effect on any insurance benefits.

Tax deductions

n/a.

Contribution caps¹

There is no cap on the total amounts or the number of other superannuation funds you can rollover into Sunsuper.

Tax

No tax is generally payable unless the other fund is an untaxed fund.

Before-tax contributions including employer SG and salary sacrifice

Under current legislation, your employer is generally required to pay an amount equal to 9.5%² of your ordinary time earnings into your super account. This requirement is known as the Superannuation Guarantee (SG).

Employers who do not make these payments have to pay a fine known as the Superannuation Guarantee Charge (SGC) to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

You can pay your own before-tax contributions into Sunsuper by salary sacrificing (where you sacrifice part of your before-tax salary), or by making a voluntary after-tax contribution then claiming a tax deduction.

For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions.

Tax deductions

A deduction can generally be claimed for super contributions by employers (employer SG and salary sacrifice) and members (voluntary after-tax). If you intend to claim a tax deduction for any voluntary after-tax contributions made to your Super-savings account, submit your request via Member Online or complete the Notice of intent to claim a tax deduction form available at sunsuper.com.au/forms or in the Income account request booklet. If you are self-employed, you can also claim a tax deduction for contributions you make by following these steps.

It's important to note the concessional contributions cap, which applies to all before-tax contributions you receive, including contributions for which you claim a tax deduction. If you are unsure about whether you should claim a tax deduction, contact your tax specialist or accountant.

Contribution caps¹

Concessional contributions cap of $25,000 p.a. for 2020-21.³

Tax

Contributions up to the cap will generally be taxed at 15%.

Contributions above the cap will be subject to additional tax (unless you are eligible for catch-up concessional contributions - refer to "Catch-up" concessional contributions later in this guide for more information). If you exceed the cap the ATO will contact you about your situation.

If your income including before-tax (concessional) contributions is over $250,000, an additional 15% tax will apply to some or all of these contributions. The ATO will charge this additional tax. For more information, visit ato.gov.au

Voluntary after-tax contributions

Voluntary after-tax contributions are those made to your super fund from your after-tax (net) salary on a regular or one-off basis.

By making a voluntary after-tax contribution you may be eligible to take advantage of the Government's co-contribution scheme.

Tax deductions

If you claim a tax deduction for a voluntary after-tax contribution, it becomes a before-tax contribution. Refer to Before-tax contributions for relevant contribution caps and tax.

Contribution caps¹

Contributions capped at $100,000 p.a.^{4,5} for 2020-21. Members aged over 67 should refer to Rules for making contributions by member's age.

If you are under age 65⁶ in the financial year contributions are made, the limit can be combined over three years to make larger payments totaling three times the annual cap.⁷

Tax

Contributions up to the cap will be taxed at 0%.

Contributions above the cap will be taxed at 47%, unless you elect to have the excess contributions refunded. The ATO will contact you about your situation.

- 1 Caps are indexed; refer to ato.gov.au for more information.
- 2 Different SG rates apply for Norfolk Island residents.
- 3 Depending on your 'total superannuation balance', unused portions of this cap may be rolled over from past years, and may be rolled over to future years. Refer to "Catch-up" concessional contributions for more information.
- 4 If your 'total superannuation balance' equals or exceeds a certain amount on 30 June of each financial year ($1,600,000 for 30 June 2020) you will not be able to make any non-concessional contributions for the next financial year. Visit ato.gov.au for more information.
- 5 Cap does not include downsizer contributions - refer to Downsizer contributions - put more into your super for retirement for more information.
- 6 This has been proposed to increase to age 67. Visit ato.gov.au for up-to-date information.
- 7 If your 'total superannuation balance' equals or exceeds a certain amount on 30 June of each financial year ($1,400,000 for 30 June 2020) you will be subject to a reduced total and shorter bring forward period for the next financial year(s). Visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions for more information.

Combining all your super into Sunsuper for Life

If you've got super with more than one fund, it can make sense to put it all together to avoid multiple sets of fees, get less paperwork and have one larger balance.

Before you make a decision to combine your super, you should think about a few things. While combining your super into a single account in one fund may mean you pay less in fees and have less paperwork to deal with, it will also mean that any insurance cover you have in your old fund will stop. You should check whether you have insurance cover in that fund and consider whether you need that cover before making a decision to combine your super. You should also consider where your future employer contributions will be paid. You should also compare the other features of your old fund with Sunsuper before making a decision. Visit sunsuper.com.au/compare.

To put all your super together, follow these two simple steps:

1. Find your other super. We can look for other super you may have using your Tax File Number (TFN). To request that Sunsuper looks for your other super, visit sunsuper.com.au/rollover or contact us.
2. Roll your super over. Visit sunsuper.com.au/rollover to use our rollover tool.

You can also visit ato.gov.au to find and transfer your other super accounts to Sunsuper.

Over-the-phone transfers, rollovers and account consolidation – we accept over-the-phone requests for rollovers into Sunsuper (including via SuperMatch). Before using this service you must read the full terms and conditions at sunsuper.com.au/verbalrollins.

Before combining your super, consider the potential loss of insurance and other benefits that you may have with your existing fund. Also, think about where your future employer contributions will be paid.

Don't miss out on Government contributions

There are now two possible types of Government contributions that you may be eligible to receive:

1. If your income is $37,000 or less, the ATO will confirm your eligibility to receive the Low Income Superannuation Tax Offset (LISTO), up to a maximum of $500 per year.
2. If your income is less than $54,837 (for 2020-21, indexed each year) and you have made a voluntary after-tax contribution to your account by 30 June each year, the ATO will confirm your eligibility to receive the Government co-contribution up to a maximum of $500 per year (for incomes up to $39,837 for 2020-21, indexed each year).

For more information refer to sunsuper.com.au/contributions or the ATO at ato.gov.au

How to make voluntary contributions

There are three main ways to make your own contributions to Sunsuper:

1. Payroll deduction – ask your employer if they can arrange for you to have an amount deducted from your salary, which is forwarded to Sunsuper together with your employer contributions. This deduction may be on either a salary sacrifice basis or an after-tax basis.
2. Direct debit – arrange to have a contribution direct debited on an ongoing or one-time basis from your Australian bank, building society or credit union account. The Direct debit request form is available on our website at sunsuper.com.au/forms or by contacting us.
3. BPAY® – once you have your membership number, visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions to get your biller code and reference number to allow you to BPAY® directly to your Super-savings account.

Registered to BPAY® Pty Ltd ABN 69 079 137 518.

For more details on how to make contributions to your super visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions or contact us.

If you wish to claim a tax deduction for your voluntary after-tax contribution (or personal contribution, if you are self-employed), you must first notify Sunsuper that you intend to do so. Complete the form in Member Online.

Allocating contributions

If for any reason we cannot allocate a contribution to an account, including if we do not have all the information we need, we will return it. Only the contribution amount we received will be returned to whoever it was received from. Any interest earned on the contribution before it was returned will be held in the Fund's general reserve for the benefit of members.

Overseas pension schemes

For information on transferring New Zealand retirement savings, visit sunsuper.com.au/kiwisaver or contact us.

Sunsuper can accept transfers from other countries. These will be regarded as voluntary contributions and may have tax implications for you. For more information, refer to the ATO. Some foreign retirement savings funds may decline to release monies to Australian superannuation funds. Check with your foreign retirement savings fund for more information.

For your spouse

You can help your spouse or de facto save for their future by making contributions to a super fund on their behalf. Depending on their income, you may even be entitled to a tax offset of up to $540.

For more important information, including eligibility for the tax offset and the Spouse contribution advice form visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions

¹ You must work at least 40 hours over a period of 30 consecutive days, during the financial year the contributions were made (or during the previous financial year, under a one-off exemption available to members with a 'total superannuation balance' under $300,000).

² The contributing spouse does not need to meet the work test when making a spouse contribution for the receiving spouse.

³ Does not apply to downsizer contributions, which may be made if aged 65 and over regardless of work status. No maximum age limit applies. Refer to Downsizer contributions - put more into your super for retirement for more information.

First Home Super Saver Scheme (FHSSS)

People who make voluntary before-tax or after-tax contributions into their super from 1 July 2017 can withdraw these contributions plus associated earnings, to help them purchase their first home. A maximum withdrawal cap of $15,000 in contributions made during a single year or $30,000 in total contributions applies.

FHSSS eligible contributions and associated earnings can be withdrawn from your super and used towards a first home deposit (subject to FHSSS rules and caps). Tax is payable on withdrawals of before-tax contributions, at either your marginal rate less a 30% offset, or a flat 17% if the ATO is unable to estimate your marginal rate. No tax is payable on withdrawals of after-tax contributions. It's important to note that associated earnings are calculated using a deemed rate of return, which may be greater or less than the actual earnings on your account. You also need to consider fees and any insurance premiums. You will not be able to withdraw more than your Super-savings account balance. For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/fhsss

Downsizer contributions - put more into your super for retirement

If you are aged 65 or older you will be able to contribute the proceeds from selling your home as a one-off contribution to your super, limited to $300,000 per person ($600,000 per couple). To take advantage of this measure, your home must have been owned by you or your spouse for 10 years or more prior to sale, and the contribution must generally be made within 90 days of settlement. This measure does not include investment properties, holiday homes, caravans or other mobile homes. These contributions do not count towards the non-concessional contributions cap and are not subject to the age restrictions and work test rules that apply to other voluntary contributions. For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/contributions.

"Catch-up" concessional contributions

From 1 July 2019, if your 'total superannuation balance' is less than $500,000 (as at the last day of the previous financial year); you can take advantage of any unused portions of the concessional contributions cap in the 2018/19 and later financial years.

For example, the concessional contributions cap for 2019/20 was $25,000. If your concessional contributions (which include employer superannuation guarantee and salary sacrifice contributions) were $15,000 for 2019/20, then you have an unused portion of $10,000. This will then roll over to effectively increase your concessional cap for future years.

Unused portions roll over for up to five years, after which they expire.

Accessing your super

When are benefits paid?

Super benefits are generally paid when you retire.

Government regulations define you as retired if you have:

- reached your preservation age (see Preservation age table), stopped an employment arrangement and retired permanently from work, or
- reached the age of 60 and stopped an employment arrangement either on or after turning 60 years, or
- reached the age of 65.

Super benefits may also be paid:

- if you attain preservation age and take a transition to retirement income stream (for more information refer to Preservation age and Income accounts),
- if you have a Terminal Medical Condition which two registered medical practitioners (one being a specialist physician in the particular medical field) have certified is likely to result in death within 24 months of this certification (refer to the *Sunsuper for life Insurance guide*¹ for the insurance definition of Terminal Illness),
- in the event of your death,
- if you are Permanently Incapacitated,
- if you are a temporary resident permanently leaving Australia (strict rules apply: refer to Temporary residents for more information and ato.gov.au for more details),
- on compassionate grounds or severe financial hardship (as defined by Government regulations), or
- under the First Home Super Saver Scheme (visit sunsuper.com.au/fhsss for more information).

All contributions and investment earnings accrued since 1 July 1999 are preserved, which means you cannot access them before your preservation age. Any non-preserved benefits that you had on 30 June 1999 will remain non-preserved, and will be shown on your Annual statement. Non-preserved amounts are either unrestricted (you can access them at any time) or restricted (you can access them only after you have retired or changed employment).

To claim your superannuation benefits, contact us. We will help you (or your beneficiaries) deal with the necessary paperwork. For more details, or to request the release of your superannuation benefits under special circumstances, visit sunsuper.com.au/early-access or contact us.

For more details on how to access your super through a Sunsuper for life Income account refer to 1. Benefits of investing with Sunsuper for life.

Transferring money to another super fund

You can rollover all or part of your super out of Sunsuper to another fund at any time. Visit sunsuper.com.au/forms for a copy of the Transfer to another super fund form. Note that Sunsuper may not process a partial rollover request that will result in a balance of less than $6,000 remaining in your account.

Identification rules

To protect the superannuation benefits of our members, and to reduce the risk of losses arising from fraud, you are required to provide sufficient proof of your identity before we can process your request to access your super or transfer your benefit to another super fund. The proof of identity you provide confirms you are the person the super benefit belongs to. If you do not provide sufficient proof of identity, we will be unable to process your request.

The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF Act) also imposes significant obligations on Sunsuper and other financial services entities regarding proof of identity. Under the Act, Sunsuper is obliged to obtain and verify your identity before processing your request to access your superannuation benefit. Sunsuper must also monitor and report suspicious matters and transactions to the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC). The Privacy Act 1988 and the AML/CTF Act restrict third party access to the information Sunsuper provides to AUSTRAC. Sunsuper is obliged to fully comply with the Acts and penalties for non-compliance are significant.

In order to manage the risk of unauthorised payment and transfer requests, Sunsuper has implemented a number of techniques to validate the authenticity of the documents received. For example, Sunsuper may use an external service provider to validate proof of identity and supporting documents.

For information about how to provide proof of your identity, visit sunsuper.com.au/id

Given that the processing of payments or transfers can be lengthy due to the level of information required, there is a possibility that your investment value may fluctuate during the processing period. You may, at your discretion, change your investment to a more stable option (e.g. Cash) before submitting your request.

When you retire, your superannuation money may be paid to you in a variety of ways, such as a lump sum, a regular income payment or a combination of these methods. The money is called a superannuation benefit, regardless of how it is paid. Your benefit must be paid to you and cannot be paid to a third party.

If you have reached your preservation age (see the Preservation age table), you may also receive your super before retirement by starting a transition-to-retirement income stream through a Transition to retirement income account while you are still working.

Preservation age

Preservation age is the Government-specified age at which you can gain access to your superannuation benefits, provided you have permanently retired from the workforce.

Under current law, preservation age varies according to birth date (see the table below).

Date of birth	Preservation age
Before July 1960	55
1 July 1960 - 30 June 1961	56
1 July 1961 - 30 June 1962	57
1 July 1962 - 30 June 1963	58
1 July 1963 - 30 June 1964	59
After 30 June 1964	60

Nominating your beneficiaries

What happens if you die?

In the unfortunate event of your death, the Sunsuper Trustee is required to pay your death benefit to eligible beneficiaries or where there are no eligible beneficiaries, to any person who has a fair claim.

For a Super-savings account, your death benefit consists of your account balance at the time of payment and any insurance benefit you are entitled to.

For an Income account, your death benefit is equal to the value of your account balance at the time of payment and if a beneficiary is nominated; it may be paid as a lump sum or as regular income payments.

Once we receive notification¹ of your death, your investment will normally be transferred to the Cash investment option within 5 working days.

After any insurance benefit has been assessed and agreed upon by the insurer, the insurance benefit will be paid into the Cash investment option and will remain invested there until the Trustee finalises payment of your death benefit.

Nominating a beneficiary

You can complete either a:

- preferred beneficiary nomination – which acts as a guide for the Trustee in deciding how to pay your death benefit, or
- binding death benefit nomination – which “binds” the Trustee to pay your death benefit to the nominated beneficiary(s).

Or

For an Income account you can also choose to complete a:

- reversionary beneficiary nomination (Income account only) which can only be your spouse or de facto. Your nominated spouse or de facto will continue to receive your Income account payments if you die.

Nominating beneficiaries ensures the Sunsuper Trustee is aware of your wishes. If you do not nominate beneficiaries or your nomination is invalid, the Trustee will look for eligible beneficiaries to receive your death benefit.

There may be taxation implications arising out of the choice you make. You should read the material on tax and discuss the implications with your financial adviser.

Who can receive your death benefit?

Preferred nominations and binding nominations – if you make either a preferred nomination or a binding nomination your beneficiaries can be:

- your dependant(s) (any spouse, any child, any person in an “interdependent relationship”¹ with you or any other person who the Trustee considers was dependent on you for maintenance or support at the date of your death),
- your legal personal representative (the executor or administrator of your estate), or
- a combination of your dependants and legal personal representatives.

When considering your nomination, it is important you understand the consequences of a payment to the different types of beneficiaries.

Where the beneficiary is:

- a dependant – the death benefit is paid directly to the person(s) and does not form part of your estate (it may be excluded from family provision claims under relevant state or territory legislation and from claims by any creditors of the estate),
- a legal personal representative – the death benefit is paid directly to your estate and is subject to your Will.

When making your nomination, it is important to note that in most cases, your parents are not considered to be dependants. If you wish for your death benefit to go to your parents, you should seek professional advice about arranging your Will to cater for this.

Please also note that if your beneficiaries are not dependants for tax purposes, the benefit payment may be subject to tax.² Children 18 years and over are generally not dependants for tax purposes.

Reversionary nominations – if you make a reversionary nomination, you must nominate your spouse or de facto to receive your death benefit. You cannot nominate your legal personal representative. Your reversionary beneficiary must be your spouse or de facto at the time of your death, in order to receive the reversionary income payments. If your nomination is no longer your spouse or de facto at the time of your death the Trustee has discretion to pay the balance of your Income account to any of your dependant(s) or to your legal personal representative.

If you don't nominate a beneficiary(s), we will try to find eligible beneficiaries to pay your benefits to. If we can't find any, we can make reasonable enquiries and pay your money to anyone with a fair claim.

¹ Someone can be in an interdependent relationship with you if you have a close personal relationship, you live together, one or each of you provides the other with financial support, and one or each of you provides the other with domestic support and personal care. Dependency can also arise where two people have a close personal relationship but don't live together or provide each other with financial support or personal care because of physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability.

² Find out more about making a claim at sunsuper.com.au/insurance

Is the Sunsuper Trustee bound by your nomination?

- Preferred beneficiary – No

If you nominate preferred beneficiaries the Trustee, in most cases, will pay your benefits as nominated, but not always. The Trustee has a responsibility to make sure your benefits are distributed in an appropriate manner. At the time of death, your nomination of preferred beneficiaries may no longer be up to date, or you may have other dependants who have a claim to your benefits.

- Binding beneficiary – Yes

If you make a binding death benefit nomination, the Trustee has no discretion in relation to whom the benefit is to be paid, provided the nomination form is valid (person(s) nominated is your dependant or legal personal representative, the proportion of benefit to be paid to each person is readily ascertainable) and less than three years old and there is no contrary court order. You may confirm, amend or revoke a binding nomination at any time.

- Reversionary beneficiary – Yes

If you make a reversionary nomination, the Trustee has no discretion in relation to whom the benefit is to be paid, provided your nominated spouse or de facto was your spouse or de facto at the time of your death.

More on reversionary beneficiaries

A reversionary beneficiary will continue to receive your Income account payments if you die. With the reversionary beneficiary nomination, the death benefit may only be paid in the form of income payments.

Your reversionary beneficiary can later elect to cash the reversionary Income account for a lump sum benefit.

Before the Income account is transferred to your reversionary beneficiary, it will be necessary for the Sunsuper Trustee to be provided with confirmation of your death and that your reversionary beneficiary was your spouse or de facto at the time of your death. Your spouse or de facto will generally be required to complete a new Income account request form.

After your death, your Income account payments will continue to be paid to your reversionary beneficiary largely on the same basis that applied just before your death. Your reversionary beneficiary is able to provide instructions to vary a range of details such as the investment strategy or payment frequency.

Your reversionary beneficiary will also be required to take income payments at least equal to the minimum applicable to their age (refer to Minimum percentage factors table).

As an alternative to nominating a reversionary beneficiary, you can nominate one or more preferred beneficiaries or make a binding death benefit nomination.

Make your nomination

- Preferred beneficiary – When you join Sunsuper via Member Join Online or on your Membership application form. Also when you activate your Income account through Member Online, or on your Income account request form found in the Income account booklet, available in this guide.
- Binding beneficiary – By completing a Binding death benefit nomination form.
- Reversionary beneficiary – When you activate your Income account through Member Online, or on your Income account request form found in the Income account booklet, available in this guide or by completing a Reversionary beneficiary nomination form.

If you are having difficulties in deciding on your beneficiaries, you should speak to a financial adviser who can help you to make an informed decision.

Change your nomination

- Preferred beneficiary – Log into Member Online or Sunsuper app.
- Binding beneficiary – Complete a Binding death benefit nomination form.
- Reversionary beneficiary – Log into Member Online, Sunsuper app or by completing a Reversionary beneficiary nomination form.

Your preferred beneficiary nomination, binding nomination or your reversionary beneficiary nomination can be changed at any time.

We list your current nominated beneficiaries on your Annual statement each year. You should take this opportunity to review your nomination to ensure it reflects any changes in your personal situation.

To obtain the Binding death benefit nomination form or the Reversionary beneficiary nomination form, visit sunsuper.com.au/beneficiary or contact us.

Rebalancing

For information on rebalancing your asset allocation refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide.

Income account payments

You can choose whether your income payments are made fortnightly, monthly (default), quarterly, half yearly or yearly. You can update your payment frequency at any time through Member Online.

The payments will be paid directly to an account in your name with an Australian bank, building society or credit union.

Lump sum withdrawals (minimum payment of $2,000) may also be available depending on which Income account type you choose.

Income account payments will be processed and the details sent to your financial institution before the payment due date. In most cases this will ensure that the funds are available in your account by the due date.

Payments and transfers between Sunsuper accounts

Lump sum benefit payments from Super-savings accounts, regular income payments from Income accounts, and transfers between Sunsuper accounts will be processed using the last available unit price on the day we finalise the processing of your payment or transfer.

Lump sum benefit payments and any additional income payments from Income accounts will be processed using the unit price for the day we finalise the processing of your payment.

The processing of payments and transfers can be a lengthy process to complete, considering the level of information required and our dependency on external parties, including employers. Given the time required to process requests, and the possibility that your investment value may fluctuate during the processing period, you may choose to change your investment to a more stable investment option (e.g. Cash) before submitting your request.

Exceptions

The processing and pricing of contributions, investment option changes and benefit payments may be delayed if we do not receive all the information required to process the transaction, or if we do not receive payment for your contribution. If for any reason we cannot allocate a contribution to an account, including if we do not have all the information we need, we will return it. Only the contribution amount we received will be returned to whoever it was received from. Any interest earned on the contribution before it was returned will be held in the Fund's general reserve for the benefit of members.

We reserve the right to temporarily suspend the processing of member transactions and the calculation of unit prices if we have permission from a regulator, if we are required to by law or on the occurrence of an extraordinary event. An extraordinary event is any significant adverse event that we deem will impact some or all members and may include the suspension of normal trading on any exchange on which securities or derivatives held by an investment option are traded. To confirm any transactions involving your account, log into Member Online, the Sunsuper app, or contact us.

We reserve the right to restrict contributions, investment option changes and payments for any one or more investment options.

How are Administration fees and insurance premiums paid?

For Super-savings accounts, Administration fees are normally deducted weekly from your account by reducing the number of units you hold using the last available unit price.

For Income accounts, Administration fees are deducted from your account by reducing the number of units that you hold using the last available unit price on the day that the transaction is processed. The flat Administration fee is normally deducted weekly and the percentage Administration fee is normally deducted monthly.

Insurance premiums are calculated weekly and normally deducted monthly from your Super-savings account by reducing the number of units you hold using the last available unit price.

Additional arrangements may apply for some Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate plans.

For more details on unit pricing see the Sunsuper for life Investment guide available at sunsuper.com.au/pds

Changes to how super works

Legislative changes may affect how super works. Sunsuper will apply any changes if and when applicable and information will be updated on our website.

3. Fees and costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Choose lower administration fees

Our profit-for-members philosophy means our members benefit through lower administration fees and improved services - where dividends for shareholders and commissions to advisers don't get in the way of your dreams.

Sunsuper's Administration fees are among the lowest you will find. With Sunsuper you pay no entry fees and no commissions.

Fees and costs

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment, or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Entry fees and exit fees cannot be charged.

Taxes are set out in Section 4 of this document.

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment. Fees and costs for each investment option are shown on the next few pages. For more details on investment options refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide.

¹ If your account balance for a product offered by the superannuation entity is less than $6,000 at the end of the financial year, the total combined amount of administration fees, investment fees and indirect costs charged to you is capped at 3% of the account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap must be refunded. If you have multiple Sunsuper accounts, your eligibility for this fee cap refund is determined based on your total balance across all the Sunsuper accounts you hold.

² Actual investment fees for the full range of investment options may be higher or lower than the costs expressed above. For information on investment fees, including estimated fees for our full range of options, refer to Additional explanation of fees and costs in this guide.

³ Some Sunsuper for life Business or Sunsuper for life Corporate plans may have different fee arrangements. Refer to your Sunsuper for life Business Plan information factsheet or your Sunsuper for life Corporate PDS, for more information.

⁴ If buy spreads and sell spreads are introduced, they are estimated to be 0.00%/0.20% for the Retirement investment option and 0.10%/0.15% for the Lifecycle Investment Strategy. These are estimates and actual buy and sell spreads may be different and fall within the range outlined. Refer to the Additional explanation of fees and costs in this guide for more information about buy and sell spreads. The latest buy and sell spreads for each investment option can be found at sunsuper.com.au/pds

⁵ For Sunsuper intra-fund advice. If you engage with an external financial adviser and receive personal advice, the cost of this advice can be deducted from your Sunsuper account. For more information refer to the Additional explanation of fees and costs in this guide.

⁸ The indirect cost ratio for the Balanced Pool is 0.40% p.a., Retirement Pool is 0.41% p.a. and Cash Pool is 0.00% p.a. The indirect costs incurred will vary depending on your allocation to each Pool. The 0.37% p.a. indirect cost ratio shown is estimated based on 90% Retirement Pool, 10% Cash Pool.

Note: If you have more than one account with Sunsuper:

- The fee cap for balances greater than $800,000 applies to each individual account and is not aggregated across multiple accounts.
- The fee cap for balances less than $6,000 takes into account your aggregate balance across all accounts you hold with Sunsuper.

For more information on insurance costs refer to the Sunsuper for life Insurance guide.

Sunsuper for life Business members should refer to their Sunsuper for life Business PDS, Sunsuper for life Business Insurance guide and Sunsuper for life Business Plan information factsheet for the specific fees and costs relating to their plan, including insurance costs.

Sunsuper for life Corporate members should refer to their Sunsuper for life Corporate PDS and Sunsuper for life Corporate Insurance guide for specific fees and costs relating to their plan, including insurance costs.

Please note that Sunsuper does not negotiate fees and costs with members.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Administration fees - Sunsuper charges Administration fees to help cover the operational costs of administering the Fund and providing some information and advice at no additional cost. Administration fees are normally made up of a flat fee and a percentage based fee. The percentage based fee is only charged on the first $800,000 of your account balance (note if you have more than one account, this is not aggregated across multiple accounts).

Investment fees - Investment fees are the fees charged to you for managing each investment option.

Sunsuper sets investment fees to match expected investment fees for the year ahead. The estimated investment fees are our best estimates based on recent experience and our current long-term expectations for ongoing investment fees.

There is an allowance for investment fees included in the unit prices (refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide for more details). We report the investment fees in two components: the base fee and the performance-related fee.

We monitor ongoing investment fees for each investment option at the end of the financial year. Please note that the actual investment fees may differ from our estimates, for example, due to changes in the investment manager mix or investment manager fees.

The estimated investment fees are provided in a table in this guide as a dollar amount per $50,000 invested. These investment fees do not include indirect costs or the Administration fees.

Each year we will let you know in the Annual report what the actual base fees and performance-related fees were for the previous financial year.

Performance-related fees - Sunsuper generally charges investment fees based on a percentage of the market value of the funds we manage (e.g. 0.5% per annum). In some cases, we charge a lower base fee and an additional performance-related fee if performance targets are exceeded by our underlying investments. Sunsuper believes that performance-related fees encourages our investment managers to deliver sustained investment performance and avoids rewarding investment managers for underperformance.

Performance-related fees are difficult to predict because they are based on future investment performance of many underlying investments (not on the performance of the whole investment option). The performance-related fees may exceed our estimates as a result of greater outperformance by various underlying investment managers.

Indirect cost ratio - Indirect costs are expenses incurred in managing your investments in addition to investment fees, and include explicit transactional and operational costs (such as brokerage and stamp duty), refer to Transactional and operational costs for more information. They are not paid by Sunsuper, but rather are incurred indirectly by our investment managers and as such are included in your net investment returns. The indirect cost ratios are the sum of indirect costs expressed as a percentage of the funds in each investment option.

The indirect cost ratios shown are calculated using actual costs and reasonable estimates of costs incurred in the previous financial year.

The indirect cost ratios for the current financial year will not be more than the actual indirect costs incurred (expressed as a percentage of the investment option) but may differ from previous years due to different circumstances.

Each year we will let you know in the Annual report what the actual indirect cost ratios were for the previous financial year.

Fee cap - If your account balance (or, if you have multiple accounts, your total balance across all the Sunsuper accounts you hold) is less than $6,000 at the end of the financial year or the date you leave Sunsuper, the total combined amount of administration fees, investment fees and indirect costs charged to you is capped at 3% of the balance (pro-rated if you've been a member for less than the full financial year). Any amount charged in excess of that cap must be refunded.

For more information on taxation matters refer to 4. How super is taxed.

² Calculated using actual costs and reasonable estimates of actual costs incurred in the previous financial year. Costs for later financial years may be different due to different circumstances.

³ Balanced-Index: The indirect cost ratio shown in the table is calculated using actual costs and reasonable estimates of actual costs incurred in 2019-20. As a result of changes to this investment option, we estimate that the indirect cost ratio for 2020-21 will be 0.05% p.a. which equates to $25 per $50,000 invested.

Transactional and operational costs - Transactional and operational costs are incurred by underlying investment managers and are divided into two categories, explicit costs and implicit costs. Explicit costs include brokerage, settlement costs (including custody costs) and stamp duty. Explicit costs are included in the indirect cost ratio for each investment option. Implicit costs are effectively the difference between the price for the purchase and sale of an investment asset and are not included in the investment fee or indirect cost ratio. Transactional and operational costs are an additional cost to you, however are not paid from your Sunsuper account as they are always incurred indirectly and as such are included in your net investment returns (except to the extent recovered under any buy-sell spread we may charge).

Advice fees: Sunsuper does not pay commissions to financial advisers. If you engage with an external financial adviser and receive personal advice, the cost of this advice can be deducted from your Sunsuper account. These fees can only be deducted where you have authorised them on an Advice Fee Request form. The adviser's fees will be outlined in the Statement of Advice they provide you. If you enter into an ongoing advice agreement, you can cancel the advice fees for this agreement at any time by notifying us. You can do this online at sunsuper.com.au/contact-us, or by calling us on 13 11 84. Sunsuper provides phone based simple intrafund advice to members about their Sunsuper account at no additional cost.

Family law legislation fees – Sunsuper will charge reasonable fees for things we are required to do in relation to family law legislation. These fees currently range between $53 and $159 gross of tax, for Super-savings accounts depending on the nature of the work.

For Income accounts, the fees range between $45 and $135 depending on the nature of the work.

If an account is split, the splitting fee is shared equally between the two parties and debited from their respective shares of the split account. Refer to Family law and superannuation for more details. This fee is an “Activity fee”.

Insurance fees - These are charged to offset Sunsuper’s costs of providing insurance cover. Where applicable they are included in the insurance premiums and described in the Sunsuper for life Insurance guide (or the Sunsuper for life Business Insurance guide and Sunsuper for life Business Plan information factsheet or the Sunsuper for life Corporate Insurance guide for Sunsuper for life Business and Corporate members respectively).

Buy-sell spreads - Buy-sell spreads are fees to recover the transaction costs incurred by the Trustee of a super fund in relation to the sale and purchase of assets of the fund. When money is invested in an investment option with a buy-sell spread, the entry unit price includes a buy spread and is used to buy units.

When money is withdrawn from an investment option with a buy-sell spread, the exit unit price includes a sell spread and is used to sell units.

Buy-sell spreads are currently not charged, but Sunsuper may introduce a buy-sell spread after the date of this guide. If buy-sell spreads are introduced, it is important to note that the values provided here are estimates and actual buy-sell spreads may be different. If buy-sell spreads are introduced the maximum range for all investment options will be between 0.00% and 1.20%.

Defined fees

An administration fee is a fee that relates to the administration or operation of the superannuation entity and includes costs that relate to that administration or operation, other than:

- (c) costs that are otherwise charged as an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

An investment fee is a fee that relates to the investment of the assets of a superannuation entity and includes:

- (a) fees in payment for the exercise of care and expertise in the investment of those assets (including performance fees); and
- (b) costs that relate to the investment of assets of the entity, other than:
 - (i) borrowing costs; and
 - (ii) indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees, incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and

A buy-sell spread is a fee to recover transaction costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity in relation to the sale and purchase of assets of the entity.

A switching fee for a MySuper product is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one class of beneficial interest in the entity to another. A switching fee for superannuation products other than a MySuper product, is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in the superannuation entity from one investment option or product in the entity to another.

A fee is an activity fee if:

- (a) the fee relates to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity that are directly related to an activity of the trustee:

- (i) that is engaged in at the request, or with the consent, of a member; or
- (ii) that relates to a member and is required by law; and
- (b) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

A fee is an advice fee if:

- (a) the fee relates directly to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity because of the provision of financial product advice to a member by:
 - (i) a trustee of the entity; or
 - (ii) another person acting as an employee of, or under an arrangement with, the trustee of the entity; and
- (b) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a switching fee, an activity fee or an insurance fee.

A fee is an insurance fee if:

- (a) the fee relates directly to either or both of the following:
 - (i) insurance premiums paid by the trustee of a superannuation entity in relation to a member or members of the entity;
 - (ii) costs incurred by the trustee of a superannuation entity in relation to the provision of insurance for a member or members of the entity; and
- (b) the fee does not relate to any part of a premium paid or cost incurred in relation to a life policy or a contract of insurance that relates to a benefit to the member that is based on the performance of an investment rather than the realisation of a risk; and
- (c) the premiums and costs to which the fee relates are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a switching fee, an activity fee or an advice fee.

The indirect cost ratio (ICR), for a MySuper product or an investment option offered by a superannuation entity, is the ratio of the total of the indirect costs for the MySuper product or investment option, to the total average net assets of the superannuation entity attributed to the MySuper product or investment option.

Note: A fee deducted from a member's account or paid out of the superannuation entity is not an indirect cost.

An exit fee is a fee, other than a buy-sell spread, that relates to the disposal of all or part of a member's interests in a superannuation entity.

Negotiability of fees

Sunsuper does not negotiate fees and costs with members. We work hard to keep our fees low.

Tax and tax deductions

Fees for Super-savings accounts and Transition to retirement income accounts are stated gross of tax. The benefit of any tax deduction may be passed on to members with a Super-savings account, by reducing the amount of contributions tax payable. See section 4 of this guide for more detail on tax.

Changes to fees and costs

Sunsuper has the right to change fees and costs. We will let you know in our Annual report what the actual investment fees have been for the previous financial year. For Administration fees and other fees, we will let you know at least 30 days beforehand if we plan to increase fees where required by law.

Example of annual fees and costs for the Super-savings account and Income account

These tables give examples of how the fees and costs in a Super-savings account invested in the Lifecycle Investment Strategy and an Income account invested in the Retirement option can affect your superannuation investment over a 1-year period. You should use these tables to compare this product with other superannuation products.

The management costs shown in these examples use estimated investment fees. Remember, these are examples and the actual investment fees charged in any year may be different.

EXAMPLE - Super-savings account		BALANCE OF $50,000
Investment fee	0.27% p.a. (being 0.24% p.a. base fee plus 0.03% p.a. performance-related fee).	For every $50,000 you have in the Lifecycle Investment Strategy you will be charged $135 ¹ each year.

³ The indirect cost ratio is calculated using actual costs and reasonable estimates of actual costs incurred in the previous financial year, for an investment 100% in the Balanced Pool. Actual indirect costs can vary each financial year.

4. How super is taxed

Super can be a tax-effective way to build up investments to fund your retirement. Understanding how these taxes work will help you maximise your benefits. This section gives a brief summary of the way superannuation is currently taxed. If you need further information on the taxation of super, we recommend you talk to a financial adviser or tax adviser.

This tax information is based on the tax laws current when this guide was prepared and on the rates and thresholds in force for the 2020-21 tax year. You can find up-to-date tax information at ato.gov.au

Retirement Bonus: If you receive a Retirement Bonus, it may have tax implications for you. For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/retirementbonus

Tax on your Income account

Income accounts operate within a preferential tax environment to encourage you to fund your own retirement.

Type of tax	Retirement income account	Transition to retirement income account
Tax if transferring from another fund	Generally there is no tax on funds you transfer to start a Sunsuper for life Income account . ⁹
Tax on earnings in the account ⁶	No tax is generally payable on investment earnings. ¹¹	Taxed at up to 15%.
Tax on Income account payments	If you are aged 60 or over all Income account payments are tax free. If you are under 60 but have reached your preservation age,³ a proportion of the gross Income account payment may be tax free depending on the superannuation components. The taxable proportion will be taxed at your personal tax rate plus Medicare levy of 2% but will attract a 15% pension tax offset.
One-off additional withdrawal from your Income account	The way tax is calculated on lump sums for Income accounts is the same as Super-savings accounts and is outlined in Tax on your Super-savings account table under "Lump sum payments".	Cash lump sums generally not available.

¹ Includes Medicare levy of 2%. ² Does not apply to death. ³ See Preservation age for more information. ⁴ Applies to taxed element of the taxable component only. Untaxed element is subject to different rules. ⁵ Indexed to AWOTE in $5,000 amounts. Visit ato.gov.au for more information. ⁶ See About tax on investment earnings for more information. ⁷ Tax may be payable on death or disablement benefits. If you have a Terminal Medical Condition, the benefit may be tax free. See When are benefits paid? for more information on when benefits are paid. ⁸ Departing Australia Superannuation Payment (DASP) tax rate is 65% for holders of visa subclass 417 (working holiday), 462 (work and holiday) and associated bridging visas, and 35% for other visa types, on taxable component (taxed element). ⁹ If your previous fund did not pay tax on your employer contributions you may have an untaxed portion of your benefit. This portion will generally attract a 15% tax when received and may attract a higher tax rate depending on the amount of the benefit. ¹⁰ If you exceed the non-concessional contributions cap you can elect to have the excess contributions refunded. The ATO will contact you about your situation if this applies to you. ¹¹ Taxes may be payable in foreign countries in respect of income derived from non-Australian investment earnings. If you set up one or more superannuation retirement pensions (like Sunsuper's Retirement income account) with a total balance exceeding the 'transfer balance cap' ($1,600,000 for 2020-21, indexed) a penalty tax may be applicable to notional earnings on the excess amount. ¹² Withdrawals of before-tax contributions under the First Home Super Saver Scheme will be taxed at your marginal rate less a 30% offset, or a flat 17% if the ATO is unable to estimate your marginal rate. ¹³ Does not apply to certain payments authorised by the ATO.

Tax treatment of death benefits

If you die and we pay your dependant (for tax purposes) a lump sum death benefit, it will generally be tax free. A dependant for tax purposes is:

- a spouse (including de facto),
- a child under 18 years,
- any other person who was financially dependent at the time of death, or
- any person who has an "interdependency relationship" at the time of death.

If the lump sum death benefit is paid to a person who is not a dependant for tax purposes, the taxable component will be subject to tax at 17% when it is paid out of the super fund (see Lump sum death benefits - tax rates table). Generally the death benefit can only be transferred as a pension to a person who is a dependant for tax purposes. The taxation treatment of the transferred pension will depend on your age and the age of your dependant (see Pension death benefits - tax rates table).

Lump sum death benefits – tax rates

	Tax free component	Taxable component
Paid to dependant	0%	0%
Paid to non-dependant ¹	0%	17%

¹ Please note: when making a payment to a non-dependent, where the lump sum death benefit includes an insured death benefit component, an untaxed element will be calculated on the total lump sum death benefit. This untaxed element is subject to an additional 15% tax.

Pension death benefits - tax rates

	Tax rate on pension payments
Pension owner 60 years or over	0%
Pension owner less than 60 years	Taxable portion taxed at beneficiary's marginal tax rate with 15% tax offset
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Beneficiary less than 60 • Beneficiary 60 years or over 	0%

Note: beneficiary is the dependant receiving the pension.

Keep your statement safe

Income accounts: If you are under 60 years of age we may be required to deduct Pay as You Go (PAYG) tax after taking into account the tax-free portion and various tax offsets. This is assessed in accordance with your answers on the Tax File Number declaration form.

Therefore, you should keep your statements to help you in preparing your annual tax returns. Your statements will also help you in respect of your social security and Department of Veteran Affairs (DVA) payments. Refer to Information for social security and Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) payment entitlements - Income accounts for more information.

Tax file number (TFN)

When you join, we ask you to provide us with your TFN. Your super fund is authorised to collect, use and disclose your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth). Your TFN is confidential and you don't have to supply it. Your TFN can be used to validate your identity. If you don't supply it you may pay more tax on both contributions and any benefits paid and you will not be able to make voluntary after-tax contributions.

We use your TFN only for the purposes allowed by law. Having your TFN makes it easier for us to find you to pay your benefits, for us to accept all permitted types of contributions to your accounts, to trace benefits that may be held for you in other funds so that you receive all your super benefits when you retire and to receive any Government co-contributions you may be eligible for. We will not give your TFN to any other fund if you advise us in writing that you do not want us to do so.

Sunsuper will use your TFN (with your consent) to search for and transfer to Sunsuper any monies you may hold with the ATO or other funds, to the extent the law allows. If we find or transfer any monies, we'll let you know.

You should also be aware that your employer is obligated to pass on your TFN to the fund receiving your employment-related super contributions.

If you do not have a TFN, contact the ATO on 13 10 20.

About tax on investment earnings

Tax on investment earnings for superannuation is usually lower than on most other forms of saving.

The unit prices include an allowance for investment tax.

We regularly monitor the investment tax allowed for in the unit price of each investment option, and for each financial year, to ensure that the tax allowed for is in line with the actual investment tax incurred.

For Super-savings accounts and Transition to retirement income accounts the tax rate is 15% of investment earnings, but the actual rate may be lower because Sunsuper can offset tax payable with imputation credits from dividends on shares and other rebates. Taxes in foreign countries may also be payable in respect of income derived from non-Australian investments. These foreign taxes may be able to be offset against the actual Australian tax payable.

For Retirement income accounts no tax is generally payable on investment earnings.¹ However, taxes may be payable in foreign countries in respect of income derived from non-Australian investment earnings. Any entitlement to imputation credits from dividends on shares and other rebates are allowed for in the unit price of any relevant option.

¹ If you set up one or more superannuation retirement pensions (like Sunsuper's Retirement income account) with a total balance exceeding the 'transfer balance cap' ($1,600,000 for 2020-21, indexed) a penalty tax may be applicable to notional earnings on the excess amount.

Tax deduction for administration fees and insurance premiums

Super-savings accounts: Sunsuper generally receives a tax deduction for expenses we incur while we look after your super and for insurance premiums. The benefit of this tax deduction may be passed on by treating administration fees and insurance premiums as deductible amounts against your taxable contributions.

6. Additional information

Cooling-off period for employers

Employers have a 14-day period to decide if Sunsuper for life Business or Sunsuper for life Corporate is right for them and their employees. The 14-day period starts on the day an employer receives confirmation that we have received their initial contributions, or 5 days after the first employees are admitted as members of Sunsuper, whichever happens first.

During this period, employers may cancel their application to become a participating employer of Sunsuper.

Any contributions made by the employer for their employees will be adjusted for tax (if payable), for changes to investment values during the period in which the employer was a participating employer (if any), and for reasonable administration costs, and will be rolled over to a complying fund of the employer's choice. Employers must nominate an alternative fund within one month of requesting cancellation. Employers wishing to cancel their application to become a participating employer must do so in writing to Sunsuper, GPO Box 2924, Brisbane Qld 4001.

Persons under age 18

A person under age 18 can join Sunsuper for life through an employer. If a person under age 18 does not join through an employer the person's parent or guardian should sign the Membership application form on behalf of the person and provide a proof-of-parent or guardianship document such as a birth or adoption certification.

Any requests to operate the account of a person under age 18, including a request for online access, should be accompanied by a parent or guardian's signature and a proof-of-parent or guardianship document.

The parent or guardian is responsible for the activities and/or transactions of the account of a person under 18. Sunsuper does not specifically monitor the membership applications or transactions of persons under the age of 18.

Payment of inactive low balance accounts to the ATO

To help protect members with low account balances, an offered product with a balance under $6,000 must generally be transferred to the ATO unless the member has in the previous 16 months:

1. Received a contribution, rollover or automatic transfer from another fund,
2. Made an investment choice,
3. Changed their insurance cover,
4. Made or amended a binding beneficiary nomination, or
5. Provided written notice to Sunsuper that they do not wish for their Sunsuper account to be transferred.

If this applies to you and we have your contact details, we will get in touch with you about your options before your account is transferred. If your account is transferred to the ATO, they can help you consolidate it with any active super account you may have.

Unclaimed benefits – lost super

If we classify your Super-savings account money as an unclaimed superannuation benefit, we may transfer it to the unclaimed monies section of the Australian Tax Office (ATO). The ATO can be contacted through their website ato.gov.au or by calling 13 10 20.

Your money may be classified as unclaimed or lost if:

1. you die, and the Trustee is unable to locate eligible beneficiaries to receive your benefit, or
2. you are aged 65 or older and we have not received a contribution or rollover in the last two years and we have been unable to contact you in the last five years, or
3. you worked in Australia on a temporary visa listed under the Migration Act 1958 and it has been 6 months since you departed Australia and your visa has expired or was cancelled, or
4. you are classified as a "lost member" and:
 - (a) your Super-savings account balance is under $6,000, or
 - (b) we have not received a contribution or rollover in the last 12 months and we are satisfied that sufficient information is unlikely to be available to pay your benefit anytime in the future.

Refer to ato.gov.au for more information.

Lost your super?

If you have lost super, your details may be recorded on the ATO's Lost Member Register or paid to the ATO as Unclaimed Super. You can access this information by either visiting the ATO online services through myGov at my.gov.au or by calling the ATO on 13 10 20.

Sunsuper, with your consent, can use the Australian Tax Office SuperMatch service to use your TFN to search for any other super you may have. This super may be with other super funds or held with the ATO. If we find money with the ATO, this will normally be transferred automatically into your Sunsuper account. If we find money with other super funds you'll have the choice of whether you transfer this or not. To help keep track of your super, we'll also conduct an ongoing annual search on your behalf. If at any time you wish to revoke your consent, please contact Sunsuper on 13 11 84.

Accessing your member details

Once you become a member we will send you a Welcome booklet which includes key information about your Sunsuper account.

Each Sunsuper for life Business plan has its own Sunsuper for life Business microsite, where you can find your PDS, guides, factsheet, Membership application and insurance forms. Check your PDS or call us on 13 11 84 for the web address.

Each Sunsuper for life Corporate plan has its own microsite, where you can find your PDS, guides, Membership application and insurance forms. Check your PDS or call us on 13 11 84 for the web address.

Keeping in touch

We make it easy for you to keep in touch with your super. As well as sending you an Annual statement every year, you can also check your super online at any time of the day or night using Member Online or the Sunsuper app. You can also use Member Online or the Sunsuper app to change investment options and update your personal details. Register for Member Online at sunsuper.com.au/memberonline and download the Sunsuper app from the App Store or Google Play.

If we've got your email address, we'll send your communications via Member Online and let you know by email or SMS or other digital channels when they're ready to view. If you'd prefer to receive your documents in paper, you can change your preferences at any time, at no additional cost, via Member Online, the Sunsuper app or by contacting us. You can also request hardcopies.

What happens when you change employer?

When you stop working for your employer, it's important to let us know. Don't assume your employer has already informed us.

If you stop working with your employer, you can generally:

1. stay with Sunsuper: visit sunsuper.com.au/changingjobs or contact us to discuss your options,
2. activate your Income account if you qualify under superannuation legislation, or
3. transfer your benefits to another approved superannuation fund.

While you retain a Super-savings account balance or get your new employer to pay your Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions or make an eligible contribution into Sunsuper for life, any Death, Total & Permanent Disability, Total & Permanent Disability Assist, and Income Protection insurance cover that you have will continue.¹

If you transfer your total balance out of your Super-savings account, your insurance benefits will end.

Don't forget – as a result of Choice of Fund, a job change does not mean you have to leave Sunsuper. If you are eligible for Choice, you can tell your new employer to contribute to your Sunsuper account.

¹ Different conditions apply for Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate members. Refer to your Sunsuper for life Corporate Insurance guide, or Sunsuper for life Business Insurance guide respectively.

Information for social security and Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) payment entitlements - Income accounts

Your Income account can affect your entitlement to social security and Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) payments. Centrelink, which administers social security payments (e.g. the age pension) and DVA regularly review your Income account against the Assets Test and Income Test. Sunsuper will provide relevant details about your Income account to Centrelink every six months (February and August).

The rules around social security are complex, and apply differently to members in different circumstances. We recommend you speak to a qualified financial adviser before setting up a new Income account or making changes to your existing Income account. Speak to your adviser or contact Sunsuper to get the advice you need. Call 13 11 84 to speak to one of our qualified financial advisers¹ who can give you simple advice about your Sunsuper account at no additional cost, quickly over the phone. For more comprehensive advice, we may refer you to an accredited external financial adviser.² Advice of this nature may incur a fee.

² Sunsuper has established a panel of accredited external financial advisers who are not employees of Sunsuper. Sunsuper is not responsible for the advice provided by these advisers and does not receive or pay any referral fees. These advisers will explain to you how their advice fees are determined.

Temporary residents

Super funds will be issued with a notice by the ATO identifying members who are not Australian or New Zealand citizens or permanent residents of Australia and who have left Australia after holding an Australian temporary resident visa. On receipt of the ATO notice, we will be required to transfer the benefit of any member recorded on the notice to the ATO.

As Sunsuper adopts the ASIC relief that provides disclosure exemption for former temporary residents, information regarding the transfer of a member's benefits and significant event notices may not be provided to a member whose benefit has been transferred. Visit sunsuper.com.au/temporaryresidents for more information. After departing Australia a former temporary resident can claim their benefit from Sunsuper (if we have not paid it to the ATO) or from the ATO. If you are applying to the ATO to claim your benefit and require information about the transfer, please contact us. The taxable component (taxed element) of a former temporary resident's benefit will be taxed at 65% for holders of visa subclass 417 (working holiday), 462 (work and holiday) and associated bridging visas, and 35% for other visa types.

For Income accounts, the Federal Government may:

- restrict the conditions under which a former temporary visa resident can start a superannuation pension, and
- require superannuation pensions, when held by a person who we are told by the ATO has become a former temporary visa resident who has not met certain conditions, to be stopped and either cashed out or transferred to the ATO.

Family Law and superannuation

The superannuation of certain couples who have separated or divorced can be divided either by agreement or court order to allow part or all of a superannuation benefit to be transferred from one spouse to the other.

There may be tax consequences as a result of splitting a super benefit, and you should seek advice from your tax adviser.

Sunsuper is required to make any payment from your account in accordance with a superannuation agreement or court order. Your account can also be flagged, which prevents us from making most types of payments from the account. For more details, contact us.

Sunsuper's reserves

The Trustee maintains a number of reserves in the Fund. The Trustee is required to maintain adequate financial resources to address losses arising from operational risks that may affect its business operations. The operational risk financial requirement (ORFR) is the target amount of financial resources that the Trustee determines is necessary to respond to these losses.

The Trustee reviews the ORFR annually and has set an ORFR target amount at 0.25% of Fund net assets plus 0.10% of Sunsuper Pooled Superannuation Trust (PST) net assets. The PST is 100% owned by Sunsuper Superannuation Fund and has the same Trustee as the Fund.

The Trustee may call upon the resources held to meet the ORFR target amount to make a payment to address an operational risk that has materialised and caused one or more beneficiaries in the Fund or in the PST to sustain a loss, or to be deprived of a gain, to which they otherwise would have been entitled, in relation to their benefits in the Fund or in the PST. Initial funding of the ORFR and future top-up or replenishment is from the general reserve. The ORFR is invested in the Balanced investment option.

The Trustee maintains a general reserve in the Fund for the benefit of members. The general reserve is maintained in order to:

- assist with meeting the operating expenses of the Fund;
- assist with the management of the operational risks of the Fund, including meeting losses from events not covered by insurance, or not claimed under insurance policies, and not met from the ORFR;
- assist the ORFR;
- assist with the timing differences between the levels of investment tax and the investment costs incurred by the Fund and the level of investment tax and investment fees charged to members; and
- assist with expenses and capital investments in assets designed to enhance the efficiency of the Fund's operations.

The Trustee does not maintain the general reserve for the purpose of smoothing investment earnings for any investment option. Members' accounts are credited or debited with the actual earnings of their investment option or options.

The general reserve may only be invested in:

- the Balanced investment option;
- low volatility investments (e.g. cash) to fund significant short-term liabilities (e.g. taxes);
- new investment options up to a combined total of $5,000,000 to provide seed funding on a temporary basis; and
- any other investments approved by the Trustee.

As part of the Trustee of the Sunsuper Superannuation Fund's arrangements with AIA Australia to provide insurance to Fund members, the Trustee may receive a refund of premiums, depending on the level of claims against the insurance policies. The Trustee will pass on any refunded premiums through adjustments to future premiums or to assist with insurance administration costs. Any refunded premiums which are received and not yet used for these purposes are allocated to an insurance reserve.

- Tax file number declaration form (if applicable),
- Notice of intent to claim a tax deduction form (if applicable) or you can visit Member Online to use our online form,
- Combine your super into Sunsuper form or you can visit sunsuper.com.au/rollover to use our online rollover tool¹, which takes just 5-10 minutes (if you have any super accounts that you'd like to combine into your Sunsuper account), and
- Binding death benefit nomination form (if applicable), and
- Attach copies of suitable documents:
 1. Driver's licence or passport (copies must be certified by an authorised person), and
 2. Proof of ownership for the bank account you have nominated for receipt of your income payments (must be less than 12 months old and shows your BSB number, your account number and your account name e.g. a bank statement).

For more information about the types of documents you can use to prove your identity visit sunsuper.com.au/id. You will need to provide these completed forms and have any rollover payments received at least 10 business days before the income payment date on which you would like to receive your first income payment.

¹ Before combining your super, consider the potential loss of insurance and other benefits that you may have with your existing fund. Also, think about where your future employer contributions will be paid.

When we have opened your Income account we will send you:

- Centrelink / Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) statement, and
- Confirmation of your investment choice.

If you have any questions or would like help with any of the paperwork contact us.

How we set up your account

How we set up your account depends on if you are an existing Sunsuper member or if we need to create an account for you. Keep reading below for more information.

Are you already a member of Sunsuper for life?

YES

This means you already have a Super-savings account and all you need to do now is let us know your payment instructions when you activate your Income account through Member Online. Alternatively, complete the Income account request form. Once we receive your completed application and any supporting documents we will move the amount you request into your Income account. We will then start making income payments into your nominated bank account.

NO

We will set you up as a Sunsuper for life member. A Super-savings account will be opened for you so we can receive your contributions or rollovers to start your Income account. All you have to do is:

- Read the PDS and the other important information in the Sunsuper for life guide, Sunsuper for life Insurance guide and Sunsuper for life Investment guide which are referred to in the PDS.
- Fill in the Income account request form found in the back of this booklet or contact us if you have any questions about how to join.

Any amounts you hold in your Super-savings account will incur fees. Any contributions into your Super-savings account will be invested in the default investment option for that account or in line with any investment nomination you have made for that account.

With Sunsuper for life you will only pay for the accounts that you have money in. While you have funds in your Super-savings account you will be charged fees, so make sure you read through the PDS and guide to gain a better understanding of how Sunsuper for life works.

If you retain a balance in your Super-savings account, it's important you are aware:

- Fees are charged (refer to the Sunsuper for life PDS or guide).
- Your rollovers or your money from outside super will be invested in the default investment option for that account, or in line with any investment nomination you have made for that account, until they are moved into your Income account.
- If you have nominated on your Income account request form for more than one super fund to transfer money from, we'll wait until all roll-ins have been received to start your Income account.
- The unit price used while in the Super-savings account will be for the investment option(s) in that account. You will receive the unit price for the investment option(s) in the Income account once we've finalised all your roll-ins and transferred your balance to your new Income account.

In your Super-savings account, if you decide to leave money in or add extra later, your contribution will be invested in the default investment option for that account or in line with your investment nomination you have made for that account.

For Sunsuper for life Business and Sunsuper for life Corporate members:

If you have a Sunsuper for life Business Super-savings account or Sunsuper for life Corporate Super-savings account, we may also need to create a Sunsuper for life Super-savings account to transition the amount you requested from your Sunsuper for life Business or Sunsuper for life Corporate Super-savings account to your Income account.

Any amounts you hold in either a Sunsuper for life Business Super-savings account, Sunsuper for life Corporate Super-savings account and/or Sunsuper for life Super-savings accounts will incur fees and costs. Refer to the Sunsuper for life Business PDS for information on Sunsuper for life Business, the Sunsuper for life Corporate PDS for information on Sunsuper for life Corporate and the Sunsuper for life PDS for information on Sunsuper for life.

Important things you need to know

- Payments can be made fortnightly, monthly (default), quarterly, half yearly or yearly. You may change the frequency of payments at any time through Member Online.
- The Income account can only be established with one investment amount. If you want to combine a number of different amounts, you will need to consolidate them in your Super-savings account before transferring to your chosen Income account.
- The Retirement Income account can only accept superannuation money that is classified as unrestricted non-preserved.
- If you are still working and between your preservation age and 65 years, you may start a Transition to retirement income account which is subject to the transition to retirement income stream rules.
- The Transition to retirement income account can accept superannuation money that is classified as preserved.
- When you commence an Income account, the first income payments will be paid from unrestricted non-preserved funds.

Existing insurance cover

If you withdraw your entire Super-savings account balance when you open an Income account, your insurance cover will stop.

To retain your insurance cover, you must generally maintain regular contributions into your account and retain a balance above $6,000.

If you want your insurance cover to continue even if there are no regular contributions (cover normally ceases if you do not receive contributions for a continuous period of 12 months or more), you can advise us in writing or visit sunsuper.com.au/insurance. Other conditions may apply.

Tax deductions

You can claim a tax deduction with the ATO for personal contributions made to your Super-savings account through Member Online.

You will need to submit a notice of intent to claim or vary a deduction for personal super contributions (by completing the online form or the form enclosed in this booklet). You must wait until you receive an acknowledgement from Sunsuper before you claim a deduction for super contributions in your tax return.

It is important you let us know your intention to claim a tax deduction before we start your Income account, otherwise you will not be able to claim the tax deduction.

To see if you're eligible to claim a tax deduction on personal contributions, contact the ATO on 13 10 20 or visit ato.gov.au. If you are unsure about whether you need to claim a tax deduction, contact your tax specialist or accountant.

Nominating your beneficiaries

In the unfortunate event of your death, the Sunsuper Trustee is required to pay your death benefit to your beneficiaries, or where there are no eligible beneficiaries, to any person who has a fair claim. For your Income account you can complete either:

- a preferred beneficiary nomination - which acts as a guide for the Trustee in deciding how to pay your death benefit. You can make this nomination at any time through Member Online, or on your Income account request form found in this booklet, or
- a binding death benefit nomination - which "binds" the Trustee to pay your death benefit to the nominated beneficiary(s). You can make this nomination by completing the Binding death benefit nomination form found at sunsuper.com.au/forms and in this booklet, or
- a reversionary beneficiary nomination - which can only be your spouse or de facto. Your nominated spouse or de facto will continue to receive your Income account payments if you die. You can make this nomination at any time through Member Online, or on the Income account request form found in this booklet.

Nominating beneficiaries ensures the Sunsuper Trustee is aware of your wishes. If you do not nominate beneficiaries or your nomination is invalid, the Trustee will look for eligible beneficiaries to receive your death benefit.

There may be taxation implications arising out of the choice you make. You should read the material on tax and discuss the implications with your financial adviser.

For more information on nominating your beneficiaries, please read Nominating your beneficiaries in this guide.

Important ongoing information about your Sunsuper for life accounts

You only have to remember one member number for Sunsuper for life. You will always have your Super-savings account available. Don't worry while you do not have a balance in the Super-savings account you don't pay any fees, but if you ever need to restart your Income account (please read Income account in this guide) or receive any other contributions you may be eligible for – it will always be there for you.

Any funds you do hold in your Super-savings account will incur fees and all contributions will be invested in the default investment option for that account or in line with any investment nomination you have made for that account.

For important information regarding tax file numbers refer to 4 How super is taxed.

3 Confirming your identity

Before you're able to withdraw money from your super account, by law, Sunsuper needs to verify your identity. This is why we request that you provide us with a certified copy of your driver's licence or passport. In some cases, identification documents may not be sufficient for us to process your request, for example, if they have not been correctly certified. This can result in delays in setting up your Income account while we contact you for further information.

With your consent, Sunsuper can use Equifax IDMatrix to verify your identity electronically. This program uses data held in places such as the Electoral roll, White pages, Department of Transport, the Passport Office, and Equifax credit information files to verify your details.

As part of the electronic verification process, your document details (for example, your driver's licence number) will be submitted to the Australian Government's Document Verification Service (DVS). The DVS is a national online system that allows organisations to compare a customer's identification with a government record. More information about the DVS is available on their website www.dvs.gov.au

By checking this box, I consent to my identity being verified electronically. I acknowledge that the document details I provide as evidence of my identity will be checked with the relevant body. This includes consent for the personal information you have provided, such as name, date of birth and residential address, to be verified against personal information contained in your credit information file. Note that Sunsuper will not access your credit related information such as credit card and loan applications.

If you don't want us to be able to verify your identity electronically if required, that's fine too. Make sure you read the information at sunsuper.com.au/id for acceptable identification documents and certification requirements.

6 How would you like your Income account invested?

You can choose to invest your account using the Today and Tomorrow strategy as outlined in Section 1 of the Sunsuper for life guide. If you prefer, you can choose to build your own strategy by choosing up to 10 options. Read the Sunsuper for life PDS, Sunsuper for life guide and Sunsuper for life Investment guide carefully and contact us if you have any questions. Note: If you do not make an investment choice, your account will be invested in the Retirement investment option.

6A If you choose one of these options, please move on to Section 7

Invest in the default investment option (Retirement).

OR

Invest in the Today and Tomorrow strategy. Note: you can only select the Today and Tomorrow strategy when starting a new Income account. Your payments will be made from the Cash investment option until there are not enough funds to make a future income payment. The payments will then be made proportionally from your remaining account balance.

6B Build your own strategy – referring to the table below, you can choose where your Income account is invested. Complete the Income payment source section on the side to tell us where you would like your income payments to be made from.

New members only! Apply this investment strategy to both my Income account and Super-savings account

1 If you are an existing Sunsuper member, you can change your investment strategy on your existing Super-savings account in Member Online.

Your weighting of investment options gets out of line when some investments perform better than others.

Sunsuper offers an automatic rebalancing service that reweights your investment options back into line with your original selection. Buy-sell spreads may apply.

Your Privacy – Personal Information Collection Notice

The purpose for which Sunsuper is collecting the information on this form is to provide superannuation benefits and related services for you. This includes processing your application, managing your participation in Sunsuper and ensuring you receive your entitlements. If the information requested is not provided, Sunsuper may be unable to properly administer your benefits and notify you about your entitlements. Sunsuper will normally only use the information you provide on this application for these purposes. Sunsuper will also use this information to notify you about Sunsuper and other products.

Sunsuper does not normally disclose information about members to parties outside the Sunsuper group, except parties contracted to provide services to Sunsuper. This includes but is not limited to the Fund's administration service provider, insurer, auditors and legal advisers. If you subsequently make a claim for a disablement benefit, the insurer will disclose information about you to medical practitioners and other experts for the purposes of assessing your claim, and may collect information about your disability from these people or from your employer.

Sunsuper also might be required by law to disclose information about you, for example to government bodies such as the Australian Taxation Office and we may disclose information to relevant overseas bodies in various countries, as described in our Privacy Policy.

Our Privacy Policy sets out how you can access information about your benefit and personal details, correct any information which is inaccurate or out-of-date and information on our privacy complaint process.

We are committed to respecting the privacy of personal information you give us. If you would like a copy of Sunsuper's Privacy Policy, visit sunsuper.com.au/privacy or contact us.

Providing your Tax file number (TFN):

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, your superannuation fund is authorised to collect, use and disclose your tax file number.

The trustee of your superannuation fund may disclose your tax file number to another superannuation provider, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request the trustee of your superannuation fund in writing that your tax file number not be disclosed to any other superannuation provider.

Declining to quote your tax file number to the trustee of your superannuation fund is not an offence. However giving your tax file number to your superannuation fund will have the following advantages:

- your superannuation fund will be able to accept all permitted types of contributions to your account/s;
- other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, you will not pay more tax than you need to - this affects both contributions to your superannuation and benefit payments when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits; and
- it will make it much easier to find different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.
- it will make it much easier to trace different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

4 Other super account(s) that you want to combine with Sunsuper

Before you make a decision to combine your super, you should think about a few things. While combining your super into a single account in one fund may mean you pay less in fees and have less paperwork to deal with, it will also mean that any insurance cover you have in your old fund will stop. You should check whether you have insurance cover in that fund and consider whether you need that cover before making a decision to combine your super. You should also consider where your future employer contributions will be paid. You should also compare the other features of your old fund with Sunsuper before making a decision. Visit sunsuper.com.au/compare

Do you have insurance cover with your other fund? You can transfer your cover to Sunsuper before you combine your super. Just complete a Transfer of insurance cover form available at sunsuper.com.au/forms. You should not cancel your existing cover until you have received confirmation that your transfer request has been accepted by Sunsuper.

This includes processing your application, managing your participation in Sunsuper and ensuring you receive your entitlements. If the information requested is not provided, Sunsuper may be unable to properly administer your benefits and notify you about your entitlements. Sunsuper will normally only use the information you provide on this form for these purposes.

Sunsuper will also use this information to notify you about Sunsuper and other products. Sunsuper does not normally disclose information about members to parties outside the Sunsuper group, except parties contracted to provide services to Sunsuper. This includes but is not limited to the Fund's administration service provider, insurer, auditors and legal advisers.

If you subsequently make a claim for a disablement benefit, the insurer will disclose information about you to medical practitioners and other experts for the purposes of assessing your claim, and may collect information about your disability from these people or from your employer.

Sunsuper also might be required by law to disclose information about you, for example to government bodies such as the Australian Taxation Office and we may disclose information to relevant overseas bodies in various countries, as described in our Privacy Policy.

Our Privacy Policy sets out how you can access information about your benefit and personal details, correct any information which is inaccurate or out-of-date and information on our privacy complaint process.

Transfers from New Zealand

Sunsuper does not accept transfers from New Zealand KiwiSaver accounts or rollovers that contain a KiwiSaver component, from an Australian super fund.

Providing your Tax file number (TFN)

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, your superannuation fund is authorised to collect, use and disclose your tax file number.

The trustee of your superannuation fund may disclose your tax file number to another superannuation provider, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request the trustee of your superannuation fund in writing that your tax file number not be disclosed to any other superannuation provider.

Declining to quote your tax file number to the trustee of your superannuation fund is not an offence. However giving your tax file number to your superannuation fund will have the following advantages:

- your superannuation fund will be able to accept all permitted types of contributions to your account/s,
- other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, you will not pay more tax than you need to - this affects both contributions to your superannuation and benefit payments when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits, and
- it will make it much easier to find different superannuation accounts in your name so that you receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

Important information

For more information visit sunsuper.com.au/beneficiary or contact us.

What is a Binding death benefit nomination?

It is a legal instrument that “binds” the Trustee of Sunsuper to pay your death benefit to your nominated beneficiaries. A binding death benefit nomination allows you to have greater certainty about where your death benefit will be paid. Provided the nomination is valid and less than three years old, then the Trustee has no discretion in relation to whom the benefit is to be paid.

In the event of your death, if your nomination is found to be invalid, the Sunsuper Trustee will use its discretion to determine how your benefit will be paid. An invalid nomination may still be an important consideration for the Trustee when determining the payment of your death benefit, however this does not ensure the benefit will be paid in the same way as a valid binding death benefit nomination.

Who can I nominate as a beneficiary?

You can nominate dependant(s) and/or your legal personal representative (that is the executor or administrator of your estate). If you nominate your Legal Personal Representative it is important that you have a valid Will and keep it up-to-date, as the Trustee must pay your death benefit to your estate.

Under superannuation law, “dependants” include the following:

- your spouse (includes married and defacto couples),
- your child (includes an adopted child, step child, ex-nuptial child or child of your spouse),
- any person in an ‘interdependent relationship’ with you, or
- any other person who the Trustee considers was dependent on you for maintenance or support, at the date of your death.

Someone can be in an interdependent relationship with you if: you have a close personal relationship, you live together, one or each of you provides the other with financial support, and one or each of you provides the other with domestic support and personal care. Interdependency can also arise where two people have a close personal relationship but don’t live together or provide each other with financial support or personal care because of physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability. In most cases, your parents are not considered to be your dependants. If you want your death benefit to go to your parents, you should seek legal advice about arranging for your Will to cater for this.

If your nominated beneficiary doesn’t fit into any of the above categories, your nomination may be invalid. Contact us to discuss further.

How do I ensure my Binding death benefit nomination is valid?

When you initially fill in your form you must do the following:

- complete all sections of the form
- ensure the beneficiaries are dependants or your Legal Personal Representative
- ensure the benefit allocation between your beneficiaries adds up to 100.00%, and
- ensure you sign and date the form in front of two witnesses, who must be over 18 years of age and not nominated as beneficiaries.

Your nomination may become invalid if:

- your form was signed more than three years before you die. You must complete a new form or amend or confirm your existing form at least every three years
- one of your beneficiaries dies before you do
- one of your nominated dependants is not a dependant at the time of your death, or
- you’re no longer a member of Sunsuper at the time of your death.

What will Sunsuper do?

It’s important that, like a Will, you keep your binding nomination up-to-date.

We’ll confirm any new, amended or cancelled nomination. We’ll confirm your current binding death benefit nomination details each year with your Annual statement. We’ll also contact you prior to the expiry of any existing nomination to help ensure you’re given the opportunity to complete a new form.

3 Member authorisation You MUST sign in front of two witnesses.

I acknowledge and have read the Member authorisation below.
