1. About Sunsuper for life Corporate

About Sunsuper

We're one of Australia's largest Super funds. We've been taking care of our members' superannuation since 1987 and currently manage the retirement savings of more than one million Australians. Our profit-for-members philosophy means our members can take advantage of low administration fees and a broad range of services designed purely for their benefit.

You were a Defined Benefit member in the IAG & NRMA Superannuation Plan (Former Fund). National Roads and Motorists' Association (NRMA) has chosen Sunsuper as the superannuation fund to manage the Defined Benefit plan for NRMA employees and employees from other employers that participate in the Plan. Your benefits have been transferred to the NRMA Superannuation Plan, within Sunsuper.

About NRMA Defined Benefits

The NRMA Superannuation Plan is a specialised plan within Sunsuper that offers at least equivalent benefits to those you had in the Former Fund. This Defined Benefit PDS sets out general information about superannuation and the NRMA Superannuation Plan.

If you have a Defined Benefit, your benefit will generally be related to your membership period, your age and your superannuation salary. You may also have an Additional accumulation account which can grow with contributions and investment earnings.

If you leave employment with NRMA (or a different employer who participates in the plan), depending on age and service, your Defined Benefit may be payable as a lump sum (subject to preservation rules). Full information about your Defined Benefits and how they are calculated is set out in the Sunsuper for life Corporate Defined Benefit Handbook for NRMA Superannuation Plan (the Handbook).

Your Additional accumulation account/s have initially been invested in similar investment option(s) to that in the Former Fund's investment option(s). For your Additional accumulation account, you can select from our wide range of investment options - consisting of diversified (multi-asset class) and single asset class options with a variety of investment styles designed to suit our members' needs

2. How super works

Super is in part a compulsory investment designed to help people save for their retirement. The Government also provides tax concessions, making super a tax-effective way of saving for retirement.

Your super with the NRMA Superannuation Plan may have both Defined Benefit and accumulation components that make up your total benefit. Before deciding to make any changes to your Defined Benefit or any Additional accumulation account you have, read the Handbook and consider any impacts to your Defined Benefit entitlements.

Your Defined Benefit is funded by your employer. Defined Benefits are calculated according to formula specified in the Benefit Deed made between Sunsuper and NRMA (NRMA Superannuation Plan Benefit Deed). Broadly the Defined Benefit is a multiple of your average highest consecutive three-year salaries during the five years before exit with NRMA, depending on how long you have been a Defined Benefit member, your age and the circumstances in which you leave.

Importantly your Defined Benefits are not dependent on investment earnings. Depending on age and years of service, your Defined Benefit will be available as a lump sum (subject to preservation rules). Full information about your Defined Benefits and how they are calculated is set out in the Handbook.

Subject to preservation rules, you may be able to access your lump sum benefit as an income stream with a Sunsuper for life Income account outside the NRMA Superannuation Plan.

Your Additional accumulation account may receive:

- voluntary contributions that you pay by salary sacrifice (these are concessional contributions),
- contributions that you may make from your after-tax pay (these are non-concessional contributions), and
- rollovers, spouse contributions, government co-contributions, and any other contributions from your employer.

Legislation imposes caps (or limits) on the amount you can tax-effectively contribute and if you exceed the caps, additional tax will apply. Refer to the Handbook for more information about contributions to your Defined Benefit and how your concessional contributions are calculated in respect of your Defined Benefit entitlements. For general information on contribution caps, refer to the Sunsuper for life guide, available at sunsuper.com.au/nrma.

The balance of your Additional accumulation account changes with investment earnings (reflected in the unit price movement), additional contributions, transfers out (withdrawals), fees, tax and other costs. Refer to the Handbook for details on your entitlements when you leave employment with NRMA, when your benefits become payable and legislative preservation requirements. Legislation imposes restrictions on withdrawals from superannuation.

Most people have the right to choose the fund that they would like their employer to pay their super into. However, any choice you make will impact your Defined Benefits.

4. Risks of super

Risks of investing in super include:

- Your Defined Benefit entitlement depends on ongoing contributions from your employer,
- The value of your Additional accumulation account investments will vary, the level of returns will vary, and future returns may differ from past returns,
- Your Additional accumulation account returns are not guaranteed, and you may lose some money,
- You may not be able to easily and quickly turn your investments into cash,
- Laws may change in the future (e.g. tax, social security), and
- Your Defined Benefit and Additional accumulation account (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement or your remaining lifetime.

Warning: Making any investment involves some level of risk. The level of risk you may be prepared to accept, and the investment option(s) that you select for your Additional accumulation account, will vary depending on a range of factors including your age, investment timeframe, the value and form of your other investments outside of super, and your tolerance for risk.

Managing investment risks

One of the ways that we help you to manage your Additional accumulation account investment risk is to offer a wide range of investment options that have different levels of risk. The level of investment risk in each investment option depends on the mix of the asset classes in the investment option. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk, for example, shares. For information on the risks of each of our investment options, refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide, available on sunsuper.com.au/nrma.

Contact us to help you understand the risks associated with investing in super and to design an investment strategy that is appropriate for you.

5. How we invest your money

Defined Benefit investment

The Trustee, in consultation with NRMA and the Plan Actuary, decides on the investment of the assets that support your Defined Benefit entitlements. The NRMA Superannuation Plan Defined Benefit reserve will be invested in the NRMA Defined Benefit Option.

Additional accumulation account

Your Additional accumulation account will initially be invested in the investment option(s) that most closely match your investment option(s) in the Former Fund. For example, if you were invested in the Balanced option in the Former Fund, you will be invested in the Retirement option in Sunsuper.

For information on investment option and investment risk refer to the Sunsuper for life Investment guide, available on sunsuper.com.au/nrma

If you have two or more investment options, you may wish to rebalance your portfolio on a periodic basis. Rebalancing simply means bringing the weighting of each investment option in your portfolio back into line with your original selection, by moving money from one option to another.

How to change your Additional accumulation account investment option(s)

To take a more active role in choosing how your Additional accumulation account is invested, you can select from our wide range of investment options consisting of diversified (multi-asset class) and single asset class options. We offer actively managed and index options as well as hedged and unhedged options.

You can easily change your Additional accumulation account investments online, by logging on to Member Online, or the Sunsuper app. You should review your Additional accumulation account investments regularly to make sure you're on track to reach your goals.

Warning: When choosing an option(s) in which to invest, you must consider the likely investment returns, the risk and your investment timeframe.

Lifecycle Investment Strategy<sup>1</sup>

Your Additional accumulation account will be invested as described in the sections above. Sunsuper is also required to provide you with comparative information on its default option, the Lifecycle Investment Strategy.

The Lifecycle Investment Strategy is designed for members who want to generate wealth over the long term, and gradually transition to lower-risk investments as they approach age 65. It does this by investing in three investment pools as outlined in the following diagram.<sup>2</sup> Members are invested in the Balanced Pool up until age 55, and after age 55 the investments gradually transition to the Retirement Pool and Cash Pool, via regular account balance transfers and changes to how contributions are invested.

6. Fees and costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees.

Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Defined Benefit

The fees and other associated costs of providing your Defined Benefit are paid by your employer and do not impact your benefit.

Additional accumulation accounts

This section shows the fees and costs that you may be charged for your Additional accumulation account. This information can be used to compare costs between different superannuation products.

The indirect costs incurred will vary depending on your allocation to each Pool. The 0.37% p.a. indirect cost ratio shown is estimated based on 90% Retirement Pool, 10% Cash Pool. 6 If buy spreads and sell spreads are introduced, they are estimated to be 0.10%/0.15% for the Lifecycle Investment Strategy. These are estimates and actual buy and sell spreads may be different and fall within the range outlined. Refer to the Sunsuper for life guide for more information about buy and sell spreads. ## Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how fees and costs for an Additional accumulation account invested in the Lifecycle Investment Strategy<sup>1</sup> can affect your superannuation investment over a 1-year period. You should use this table to compare this superannuation product with other superannuation products.

EXAMPLE – Additional Accumulation Account (Lifecycle Investment Strategy)		BALANCE OF $50,000
Investment fee	0.27% p.a. (being 0.24% p.a. <sup>2</sup> base fee plus 0.03%p.a. <sup>2</sup> performance-related fee).	For every $50,000 you have in the Lifecycle Investment Strategy you will be charged $135 <sup>2</sup> each year.

1 The default investment option for Income accounts is the Retirement investment option. Refer to the Sunsuper for life guide for fees and costs. 2 Investment fees shown are estimated fees. Indirect costs shown are based on actual costs and reasonable estimates of actual costs incurred in the previous financial year, for an investment 100% in the Balanced Pool. Actual investment fees and indirect costs can vary each financial year. 3 Additional fees may apply. NOTE: Example assumes no insurance. If you have insurance, premiums may apply - refer to section 8 Insurance in your super.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Changes to fees and costs: Sunsuper has the right to change fees and costs. Each year, we will let you know in our Annual report what the actual investment fees and the indirect costs have been for the previous financial year. The fees for the NRMA Superannuation Plan are negotiated with NRMA and will change if you cease employment with them. For administration fees and other fees, we will let you know at least 30 days beforehand if we plan to increase fees where required by law.

Advice fees: Sunsuper does not pay commissions to financial advisers. Warning: If you engage with an external financial adviser and receive personal advice, the cost of this advice can be deducted from your Sunsuper account. These fees can only be deducted where you have authorised them on an Advice Fee Request form. The adviser's fees will be outlined in the Statement of Advice they provide you. If you enter into an ongoing advice agreement, you can cancel the advice fees for this agreement at any time by notifying us. You can do this online at sunsuper.com.au/contact-us, or by calling us on 13 11 84. Sunsuper provides phone based simple intrafund advice to members about their Sunsuper account at no additional cost.

i You should read the important information about Fees and costs before making a decision. Go to sunsuper.com.au/nrma to get the Sunsuper for life guide (which contains general information about Sunsuper's fees and costs). The material relating to Fees and costs may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product..

7. How super is taxed

Tax law is complex, so we recommend you seek advice from a registered tax agent, or from a financial adviser. Sunsuper is not a registered tax agent. You can also visit ato.gov.au for more information

Contributions

Special rules apply to concessional contributions for Defined Benefit members.

In relation to contributions, the following is a brief summary of the significant tax rules that apply:

- A formula determines the value of your Notional Taxed Contributions for your Defined Benefit. The Notional Taxed Contribution amount (which incorporates fees and premiums paid by your employer) will count towards your concessional contributions cap and is also included in the assessment of Division 293 tax (payable if your income including concessional super contributions exceeds $250,000). For more information refer to the Handbook, available at sunsuper.com.au/nrma
- Other employer contributions, salary sacrifice and personal contributions for which a tax deduction is claimed are concessional contributions and so, also count towards your concessional contributions cap and are included in the assessment of Division 293 tax.
- Concessional contributions (where applicable) are generally taxed at up to 15% of the contribution.
- Contributions from after-tax sources (such as member post tax contributions and spouse contributions) are generally tax free.

Warning: When making contributions to your Additional accumulation account it's important to note that there are tax consequences if you exceed the relevant contribution caps. For information on contribution caps, refer to the Sunsuper for life guide, available on sunsuper.com.au/nrma.

Investment earnings

In your Additional accumulation account and in Sunsuper for life Transition to retirement income accounts investment earnings are generally taxed at up to 15%. If you have a Sunsuper for life Retirement income account, investment earnings are generally tax free, however taxes may be payable in foreign countries in respect of income derived from non-Australian investment earnings. A penalty tax on notional earnings may apply if you have a high total balance in one or more superannuation retirement pensions.

Withdrawals

If you are over age 60 lump sum withdrawals are generally tax free.

If you are under age 60 you may be taxed for withdrawals as outlined in the following table.

Lump sum withdrawals <sup>1,2</sup>	Pension and Income payments
Tax free component: Nil Taxable components: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• If under preservation age: taxed at 22%<sup>3</sup></li><li>• If you've reached preservation age: tax free up to the low rate cap ($215,000 in 2020-21) and then generally taxed at 17%<sup>3</sup></li></ul>	Generally tax is paid at your marginal tax rate less a 15% tax offset if you've reached preservation age.

How tax is paid

Sunsuper generally will pay, on your behalf, the tax applying to your Additional accumulation account. Contributions tax (where applicable) is deducted from your contribution prior to allocation to your account, an allowance for investment earnings tax (where applicable) is deducted from investment income and included in the calculation of unit prices. This tax and other taxes may also be deducted from your Additional accumulation account.

Warning: If you have supplied your TFN to the Former Fund, your TFN will have been transferred to your NRMA Superannuation Plan account. If you don't supply your TFN, you would pay more tax on contributions and any benefit paid, and you would not be able to make voluntary after-tax contributions.

Sunsuper will use your TFN to validate your identity and, with your consent, search for and transfer to Sunsuper any monies you may hold with the Australian Tax Office (ATO) or other super funds, to the extent the law allows. If we find or transfer any monies, we'll let you know i You should read the important information about How super is taxed including contribution caps in the Sunsuper for life guide and the Defined Benefit Handbook before making a decision. Go to sunsuper.com.au/nrma to get the Handbook (which contains information specific to the NRMA Superannuation Plan), and the Sunsuper for life guide (which contains information about super in general and Sunsuper in particular). This material may change between the time when you read this statement and the day when you acquire the product.

8. Insurance in your super

This section outlines the insurance component of benefits that are payable on a member's death, permanent disablement, or temporary disablement, and the additional insurance options that are available.

Death and Total & Permanent Disablement benefits

On your death or if deemed Totally & Permanently Disabled, or if suffering from a Terminal Illness, your Defined Benefit will be calculated and paid as set out in the Defined Benefit Handbook.

Your Death or Total & Permanent Disablement Benefit may include an insurance component, the premiums for which may be paid for from the Plan. If eligible, your employer may make any contributions necessary to pay the premiums for this insurance. Refer to the Defined Benefit Handbook for further details regarding your category arrangements.

Binding and non-binding nominations are available for your Death Benefit.

Permanent Disablement (other than Total & Permanent Disablement) Benefit

You may have access to a permanent disablement benefit that does not constitute Total & Permanent Disablement.

This benefit may be payable to you if you cease employment due to permanent disablement but you are not entitled to a Total & Permanent Disablement Benefit. This benefit is only available while you are employed with NRMA or a participating employer and remain a member of the Plan.

If you are eligible, your Defined Benefit will be calculated and paid as set out in the Defined Benefit Handbook.

Income Protection benefit

Income Protection provides a monthly income after you have been absent from work for a continuous period while you are temporarily disabled, either totally or partially. To be eligible for this benefit you must be a member of an eligible category of the NRMA Superannuation Plan, under age 65, and a permanent employee of NRMA or a participating employer, working 15 hours or more per week.

If you become temporarily disabled, your payment will be calculated and paid as set out in the Defined Benefit Handbook. Note that waiting periods apply.

Refer to the Defined Benefit Handbook for further details regarding the Income Protection benefit (if any) available in your category.

Any income protection benefit may include an insurance component, the premiums for which are paid for from the Plan.

Your employer will make any contributions necessary to pay the premiums for this insurance.

Warning: Some of the information in the Defined Benefit Handbook may be relevant in determining your eligibility for the benefits described in these sections and should be read before making a decision in relation to these benefits.

i You should read the important information about Your Benefits, Your Death Benefit, Your Disablement Benefits, Other terms and conditions, About death and disablement claims, What happens to my death and disability benefits if I leave my employer? and the Definitions in the Defined Benefit Handbook before making a decision. ## 9. How to open an account

You become a member of Sunsuper on transfer of your benefits from the Former Fund. You do not need to sign any documents to become a member. However, you may want to make some decisions about your benefit (for example, changes to the investment of your Additional accumulation account, or nomination of a beneficiary for your Death Benefit) and in this case you will need to complete and sign the necessary forms.
