SUNSUPER ANNOUNCES NEW BOARD APPOINTMENTS

Sunsuper has today announced the appointments of Cate Wood and Mark Goodey as directors of the Sunsuper Board.

Ms Wood, who is based in Canberra, is an experienced director and executive having worked in the profit-for-member superannuation sector for more than 20 years, including as CEO of the former AGEST fund and chair of CareSuper.

Mr Goodey, who is based in Brisbane, is the CFO of the Australian Workers Union in Queensland and is a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of England and Wales.

Ms Wood fills an existing vacancy, while Mr Goodey will join the Board effective 1 January 2020 at the conclusion of the term of former Sunsuper chair, Ben Swan.

Sunsuper chair, Andrew Fraser, welcomed both new directors to the Board.

"Ms Wood and Mr Goodey bring skills and experience that will add to the capacity of our Board to lead and govern the fund in the interests of its 1.4 million members.

"I also acknowledge and thank the former chair, Ben Swan for his service to the board, and wish him all the best in the future."

With Ms Wood's appointment, Sunsuper will once again have more than 40 per cent female directors.

Sunsuper is one of Australia's biggest superannuation and retirement businesses with more than 1.4 million members across Australia and more than $70 billion in funds under management.

Sunsuper's Board comprises equal numbers of employer and employee representatives, as well as three independent directors.
